

STOKES' ASSAULTS AND MRS. SINGLETON VANISH FROM VIEW

Sister of Lillian Graham
Says She Will Tell Things
About Hotel Man.

NEW YORK, June 25.—The whereabouts of Miss Lillian Graham and Miss Ethel Conrad, the two girls who shot W. E. D. Stokes, was kept secret today. Likewise, Miss Graham's rich sister, Mrs. John Singleton, vanished from public view after the girls were admitted to bail last night.

There is no doubt, however, that she will do all she can to protect her sister. She arrived on La Provence last evening, and, as announced when she sailed, brought papers bearing on the relations between Stokes and Miss Graham.

She went freely when speaking of her sister, and showed great excitement when speaking of Stokes. She intimated that she would reveal things of some interest to Stokes.

"I have come to aid my sister," she said. "Stokes did not expect I would come. He would hate to hear some of the things I will tell on the stand if an opportunity is given me."

"I love my sister more than anyone else in the world, and I have come to help her fight for her good name, or what will be left of it, for no greater innocent she is, the stain of this arrest must always remain. It is in this case every old case—the man will go out with his good name—the woman must suffer."

"Do I know Mr. Stokes?" she said. "I lived at his hotel five years ago, and I introduced my sister to Stokes. She was then only seventeen. Stokes came to see us introduced at the proprietor of the hotel, to know whether he could do anything for us. Then he used to come and ask me how my pretty sister was. In this country we protect the dogs and other animals, but we offer no protection to young girls."

Gotham No Place for Indian, Says Redskins

NEW YORK, June 25.—There will be a great pow-wow on the Menomonee Reservation, in Wisconsin, in a few days, for Menomonee Indians, the Indian captain of police, who has been a guest of the Museum of Natural History for two weeks is going back to his people. John Valentine Satterlee is the captain's Anglo-Saxon name. His father was an English physician and his mother a full-blooded Indian.

Satterlee, accompanied by Alanson Skinner, of the museum staff, will start for the reservation tomorrow. Yesterday the Indian guest was taking his last look at the Indian section of the museum.

When he gets back he is going to tell how they run in New York. "It is no place for an Indian," said Satterlee. "I have seen it, yes! Too much. He added, shaking his head and shrugging his shoulders, 'Museum treat me fine—everything in big city fine, everything but subway.'"

Satterlee went up to Bronx Park to see the buffaloes and snakes a few days ago. He had never seen any of the former before.

"Buffalo very fine," he said. "Got everything to see here."

During his stay the Indian has been taken to nearly every point of interest. "Much better than my streets look alike," he said. "But very fine ladies."

Satterlee does not know whether he will ever visit New York again. He says he can never forget the trip. Every one will come to see him when he goes back. "And talk, talk—all want to know. I hope I don't forget one thing, so I can tell them."

There is a subway will never be built on his reservation. The only way he could be involved in his education under the East river was by robbing him. "I did not know till I came out. A good joke on Satterlee."

Knox Funeral Services Planned for Tomorrow

The funeral of George V. Knox, vice president of the George W. Knox Express Company, and for many years prominent in Washington business circles, will take place at his home, 1551 Girard street, tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. Knox died at his home on Saturday last from a complication of diseases, after an illness of more than a year. The funeral services will be under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, of which he was a member. He was born in Washington December 2, 1852, and received his education in the local schools, and has been engaged in active business since 1880, being associated with his father, the late George W. Knox. He was a member of Federal Lodge, No. 1, F. & A. M., Columbia Chapter, No. 1, R. A. M., and was a Commander, No. 1, K. T., and Almas Temple, Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Knox is survived by his widow and two children, a son and a daughter, and by his mother and a brother, W. S. Knox.

Conductors as Police Must Arrest Drinkers

CHICAGO, June 25.—Beginning July 1 every railroad conductor on trains running in Illinois will assume the duties of policeman. All of the railroads with tracks within the State are preparing placards promulgating the bill just passed making it unlawful to drink intoxicating liquors or to be intoxicated in or upon railroad passenger cars or use for transportation of passengers or about any railroad station.

The law says there shall be no drinking in smoking cars, parlor cars, day coaches, interurban cars and cabooses used for the transportation of passengers. It does not mention buffet cars.

Railroad conductors will be called upon to act for the State in arresting all violators they may see. Furthermore, they will be liable to a fine if they fail to arrest violators.

English Nobleman Is Penniless in Boston

BOSTON, June 25.—Sidney M. Bell, who says he is the eldest son of Sir John Charles Bell, bart, lord mayor of London in 1907, is penniless in a lodging house in South Boston. He was found by a fellow countryman, Robert J. Kirkwood, in a starving condition in the Dover street mission, a few nights ago. Kirkwood provided him with food and lodging, and after many attempts succeeded in learning his story.

Bell is a distinguished appearing man of twenty-six years and speaks with a decided English accent.

To Escort Togo

CAPT. T. M. POTTS,
Who Will Accompany Japanese Admiral
During His Visit Here.

CAPTAIN POTTS TO BE ADMIRAL TOGO'S ESCORT DURING TRIP

Washington Man Will Show
Japanese Fighter Over the United States.

Capt. Temple M. Potts, U. S. N., will have a pleasing but not a new job when he escorts Admiral Togo through the United States. Captain Potts, as head of the office of naval intelligence, has had previous pleasing tasks of the same kind.

Last time, for example, he was the escort for the Chinese prince and the retinue of notable soldiers and sailors and statesmen that he brought with him to Washington in the fall of 1908. When Admiral Togo comes to the United States, Captain Potts will meet him in New York, it was announced today, and will accompany him on all the great journey of seventeen days, in which he will see Niagara Falls and the navy yards and the great cities of the country.

Captain Potts is a native of the District of Columbia, and entered the naval service in 1872. He was appointed from "at large." He was a prominent figure at the Schley-Sampson controversy, and is generally said to have been "with the rest of the Navy." That is to say, his testimony was regarded as favorable to Admiral Sampson. He was a member of the Massachusetts at Santiago, and he testified that the Massachusetts was in and out of the battle, as was alleged.

James to Be Next Kentucky Senator

Representative Ollie M. James, one of the leading Democratic members of the House, will be the next United States Senator from Kentucky if the Democrats control the Legislature.

The success of Mr. James in the primaries is assured by the fact that Senator Thomas H. Paynter has withdrawn from the race. This leaves a clear field to James.

Representative James set out on an aggressive campaign to win in the primaries some months ago. One of the points of attack on Paynter was his record in the Lorimer case. As a member of the Privileges and Elections Committee and the subcommittee charged with the first investigation into the Lorimer case, he was a supporter of Lorimer. For this he was bitterly criticized at home.

Representative James is a progressive Democrat, one of the most progressive in Congress. If he goes to the Senate it will be a distinct gain for the progressive faction in that body.

"All Mustard" Ruling By the Pure Food Bureau

If it's "all to the mustard" it must be "all mustard," according to the most recent ruling of the Board of Food and Drug Inspection. That charcoal is being used by some manufacturers as a substitute for mustard, has been discovered by the board, and the board holds that nothing but yellow mustard, brown mustard, or black mustard, or black mustard is mustard.

Charcoal and mustard flower with spicer is not "prepared mustard," according to the board's decision.

Labor Officials Expect To Face Charge Anew

Little hope is held by Samuel Gompers, Frank Morrison, and John Mitchell that they will not have to face charges of contempt. The report of the committee appointed by Judge Wright to determine whether there is not sufficient grounds to warrant such an action is expected tomorrow.

Less than twenty-four hours after the labor men were relieved of serving the full sentences in the original convictions for contempt, Judge Wright appointed the committee to investigate. Three of the committee were attorneys against them. The report has been ready for several days but lacked one signature.

Miss Rucker Bride
of Thomas Lanham, Jr.

Miss Sadie Pauline Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Rucker, was married to Thomas Lanham, Jr., of Lanham, Md., last evening at 8 o'clock. The wedding ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. J. Howard Wells, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, South, in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Scott McGill, 124 Newton street, was attended by a gathering of relatives and intimate friends.

Palms, green vines and clusters of white roses and Anemone lilies adorned the drawing rooms, and the reception hall and dining room were decorated with ferns and La France roses. The wedding music was played by Miss Elizabeth Penningale and William Blanchard sang appropriate selections.

The bride, who was escorted to the improvised altar of palms and flowers, and given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of soft white satin embroidered in pearls. Her long tulle veil was arranged with lilies of the valley, and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Miss Clara Rucker, who was her sister's maid of honor, wore yellow satin and chiffon trimmed with gold, and she carried a shower bouquet of lavender sweet peas.

Paul Lanham was his brother's best man.

The Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Stimson have taken the house at 118 Sixteenth street for the coming season.

An informal reception followed the wedding ceremony, and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Lanham left Washington for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will reside at Lanham, Md.

Something in the way of a rubber or woolen toy would be nice, or, if you wish to invest in something a little more expensive, why not buy him one of the pretty plates that do not tip over or a silver spoon? Notre Dame, the college, is situated at Notre Dame, Ind. There are numerous churches of Notre Dame in the United States. Chiffon would be rather flimsy for a bow to be worn in summer, inasmuch as the first touch of dampness would wilt it. Why not use chiffon to drape the hat instead of using it for bows? Pink roses, or those having a touch of yellow, would be pretty for a brunette. Red ones would seem too hot for summer. Do not attempt white roses, as they do not have character enough when used on a white hat. Why not have white ribbon instead of chiffon for your bow?

Will you kindly give me a good recipe for peach cordial; also how I can wash and iron a black lawn dress so it will look nicely? Very truly, Mrs. L. G. H.

Peach cordial is made by warming and sweetening the fruit, after it has been pared and stoned, and to one pint of juice add one pint of sugar, one-half ounce of powdered cinnamon, one-fourth ounce of mace, two teaspoonfuls of cloves, and boil all together for a quarter of an hour. Strain the syrup and to each pint, add a wineglassful of French brandy.

Wash the black lawn in cold water and Ivory soap, and instead of starching it, use a little household glue, pressing it on the back of the range to dissolve. Into a bowl of water pour a very little of the glue, and with this, sprinkle the dress, roll up, and iron on the wrong side. The water should be a little French brandy.
